

LOCAL LEARNING, GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP

Annual conference for UNESCO Associated Schools in the UK

28 June 2010

In partnership with the Royal Geographical Society with IBG and Buckinghamshire County Council
Missenden Abbey Conference Centre, Buckinghamshire, HP16 0BD

Space is limited – register now!

Preparing our students for life in an increasingly complex world requires compelling learning experiences that challenge perceptions and stimulate curiosity. Curriculum reforms across the UK have put the global dimension and skills for the 21st century firmly on the agenda. The 2010 annual conference for UNESCO Associated Schools in the UK will be an opportunity to get behind the headlines and develop concrete ideas for how you can meet your curriculum requirements and take forward local learning and global citizenship in your school.

Join us for a day exploring ways we can bring the world into our classrooms:

- Get inspired by Sir Keith Ajegbo, author of the 2007 diversity and citizenship curriculum review
- Take part in hands-on workshops
- Share your experiences with colleagues
- Learn from practical examples of good practice
- Walk away with 'ready-to-go' ideas and resources

AVAILABLE WORKSHOPS

1. The United Nations Matters

Discover engaging and interactive ways to teaching about the United Nations and global issues.

2. Running a Model United Nations Event

Come and find out how to organise one of these hugely rewarding events at classroom, school or LEA scale.

3. Discovering Cultural Identities

Explore new creative approaches to teaching and learning about local and global identity through archives and museum objects.

4. Who Do We Think We Are?

Exploring identity, diversity and citizenship.

5. Making Sense of Our Sites

Be inspired by how UNESCO World Heritage Sites can be used to excite and awe pupils through collectively focusing on issues around global heritage, citizenship and identity.

6. Using Media Tools to Support Global Learning

Find out more about facilitating critical enquiry through the use of radio and podcasting.

In association with:

Services for

The event is free and open to all primary and secondary schools in the UK. Places are limited and the deadline for registration is 11 June 2010. To register, contact Anne Breivik at abreivik@unesco.org.uk. Teachers from members of UNESCO Associated Schools can apply for travel expense cover. For further information see www.unesco.org.uk.